The Cereal Box Project Todd Hawk,2015-10-26 The Cereal Box Project is a guide to creating a middle school math project. The Cereal Box Project starts with a simple premise: A large cereal company wants a unique design to attract people's attention. The company does not want the same old boring rectangular prism. Students will then design and build their version of the new cereal box. Along the way, they will need to calculate such things as volume, surface area and cost. This guide contains many tips, tricks and lessons learned from nearly a decade of using this project in our math class. There are many aspects of the Cereal Box Project that make it very appealing. Flexibility. As a teacher, you can customize the topics you want to focus on. You can incorporate as many different topics into this project as you can imagine. Differentiate. This project makes it easy to differentiate between students. A student that struggles might work on a cereal box that is very basic while another student can be challenged with a greater degree of difficulty. Hands On. Like with most projects, the Cereal Box Project allows students the chance to physically build the project. The actual act of measuring, cutting and taping helps students develop a deeper understanding of the connection between the numbers and the physical object. Creativity. The Cereal Box Project gives the students the opportunity to use their creativity when designing this project. Enjoyment. Cereal boxes are usually a reflection of the student's interest. As a result, the students tend to take more pride and put more effort into this project.

discovers that his word jar is full. He can't put any new words in without taking some of the old words out—and he wants to keep all his words. Donovan doesn't know what to do, until a visit to his grandma provides him with the perfect solution.

Thinking Tools for Young Readers and Writers Carol Booth Olson, Angie Balius, Emily McCourtney, Mary Widtmann, 2018 In her new book, bestselling author and professional developer Carol Booth Olson and colleagues show teachers how to help young readers and writers construct meaning from and with texts. This practical resource offers a rich array of research-based teaching strategies, activities, and extended lessons focused on the “thinking tools” employed by experienced readers and writers. It shows teachers how to draw on the natural connections between reading and writing, and how cognitive strategies can be embedded into the teaching of narrative, informational, and argumentative texts. Including artifacts and written work produced by students across the grade levels, the authors connect the cognitive and affective domains for full student engagement. “This book seamlessly bridges the gap from research to everyday practice.... You get an extremely well-organized set of overarching instructional principles that are right for our era and brought to life through well-explained instructional guides and classroom activities.” —From the Foreword by Judith Langer, University at Albany, SUNY “I have always admired Carol Booth Olson’s work with secondary students and teachers. She now applies those essential principles and practices to elementary and middle school students. Bravo!” —P. David Pearson, professor emeritus, University of California, Berkeley

New in this edition are lesson planning documents for each chapter that include guiding questions, learning targets, and summative assessments, as well as new book title recommendations and updated FAQ's from the first edition. Also included are strategic lessons for inferring, determining the importance in each text, and synthesizing information. Teachers can help students make their thinking visible through oral, written, artistic, and dramatic responses and provide examples on how to connect what they read to their own lives. In this book, Miller reflects on her professional experiences and judgement along with current research in the field. She provides a guide for any teacher hoping to build student relationships and develop lifelong independent learners.

Fred lived in California and had no idea about ancient Greeks or East Coast college kids. His invention quest began in 1932 after tossing a tin popcorn lid around the backyard. For more than twenty years, Fred and his wife, Lu, tried and failed to perfect a flying-disc concept. Eventually they created what we know today as the Frisbee.
