45 Foods That Kill Your Dog Ronald E. Hudkins, 2014-08-12 In many homes a dog or the dogs almost literally become members of our family. Be cautioned that treating them as humans at mealtimes can cause major injury to them by our good intentions to simply spoil them with scraps from our dinner plates. In this book we will take a look at some of the most dangerous foods for your dog, how these food stuffs affect their bodies, and what to do with your pet in the case of an emergency. We certainly feel great when we treat our pets to human food every once in a while. Those puppy-dog eyes are hard to resist as they watch your every food consumable motion. They have their animal body language down to a science and usually manage to actually convince us that they are starving and must be scrapped! All that schmoozing ability makes you want to share with them a taste of everything you eat. But owner beware! Giving in to those eyes, the act and surrendering the human foods over to our dog(s) can actually seriously harm or even kill them. Just how much or what quantity of various types of human food items can sicken or kill your dog is different between various breeds and their likewise different weights. Some really surprising details are provided in this book and are documented to advise you on what foods cause toxic conditions in your dog. Additionally, the various symptoms you should be on the lookout for. According to statistics in 2007, the ASPCA's Animal Poison Control Center received more than 130,000 emergency calls. Most of the reported cases of animal toxic poisoning were caused by common human foods and household items. Some of the more common signs of poisoning include vomiting and diarrhea, muscle tremors or seizures, drooling, redness of skin, ears and eyes and swelling and/or bleeding. It cannot be emphasized enough that the many foods we like can be dangerous to animals. As hard as it is to do, it's actually best to stick to pet food and the diets recommended by your veterinarian. Yet regardless of all the precautions we take to keep our pet pals safe, accidents can and do happen. It is because of the sad reality that the ASPCA, Humane Society and animal advocates advise pet owners to keep the telephone numbers of their local veterinarian and the ASPCA Animal Poison Control Center — (888) 426-4435 — in a prominent easily retrievable location. That being said, even if you only suspect your pet has inhaled, consumed, or come in contact with some kind of toxic substance, stay calm, cool and collect and call for assistance immediately. If you discover your pet consuming anything you think might be toxic, to be safe seek emergency help immediately. This should be your cut in stone precautionary action even if she or he is not exhibiting any of the common signs or symptoms previously mentioned. Better to be safe than sorry is the norm for family and we should be just as cautious about our pets too. Wouldn't you think?

Shock and Paw John Houck, 2015-08-02 Our dogs are dying before they should. Poor nutrition and toxic ingredients are certainly the cause. Good nutrition is the best health care we as pet parents can give our dogs. Simply changing your dog's daily diet will lead to a longer, healthier life for your beloved companion Do you really know what is in your dog's food? With lack of any real regulation, big money backing and industry associations to protect them, the pet food industry continues to use disguised and often disgusting, potentially toxic ingredients in their products. While, at the same time, they tell you their product is scientifically formulated to be the best for your dog. With slick advertisements, unverified internet information, and biased expert opinions, how do you really know? Inside you'll find: * Why Your Dog Food Company Really Doesn't Want You to Read the Label* The Pet Food Industry's Nastiest Secret* The One Toxic Ingredient You Will Not Find in the Ingredients List* There Are Thousands of Bugs Living in Your Dog* How There is Virtually No Regulation of the Pet Food Industry* Why You Should Not Believe Everything on the Label* Even a Small Amount of This Toxin Will Kill Your Dog* The Good, the Better, and the Essential Ingredients in Dog Food* One Simple Thing You Can Do to Extend the Life of Your Dog

Nutrient Requirements of Dogs and Cats National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Agriculture and Natural Resources, Committee on Animal Nutrition, Subcommittee on Dog and Cat Nutrition, 2006-07-01 Updating recommendations last made by the National Research Council in the mid-1980s, this report provides nutrient recommendations based on physical activity and stage in life, major factors that influence nutrient needs. It looks at how nutrients are metabolized in the bodies of dogs and cats, indications of nutrient deficiency, and diseases related to poor nutrition. The report provides a valuable resource for industry professionals formulating diets, scientists setting research agendas, government officials developing regulations for pet food labeling, and as a university textbook for dog and cat nutrition. It can also guide pet owners feeding decisions for their pets with information on specific nutrient needs, characteristics of different types of pet foods, and factors to consider when feeding cats and dogs.

Safety Kim Thornton, 2013-01-15 Dog owners have a responsibility to be informed, and keeping their dogs safe requires getting the right information. This Simple Solutions guide, Safety begins with guidance for the new owner about puppy-proofing the home and yard, making it safe for the curious puppy's nose, mouth, and paws! The chapter titled "Common Household Risks" lists the dozens of possible dangers lurking in everyone's homes, from dangling electric wires and socks to stuff that any puppy will retrieve from wastepaper baskets or the kitchen garbage pail. "Dining Dangers" considers the many human foods that can cause toxic reactions in dogs—beyond chocolate, there are shelves of food items that can make dogs very sick. Toxic plants flourish on the inside and outside of many dog owners' homes, and these include some of the most commonly seen house plants and shrubs. Owners must protect their dogs from garden beds, planters, and flowerpots! The final chapter of this book, "Seasonal Safety" is an all-year safety primer, from spring through winter, plus a special section on the holidays, giving owners sensible advice about precautions to take both indoors and out.

The Forever Dog Rodney Habib, Karen Shaw Becker, 2021-10-12 #1 New York Times Bestseller In this pathbreaking guide, two of the world's most popular and trusted pet care advocates reveal new science to teach us how to delay aging and provide a long, happy, healthy life for our canine companions. Like their human counterparts, dogs have been getting sicker and dying prematurely over the past few decades. Why? Scientists are beginning to understand that the chronic diseases afflicting humans—cancer, obesity, diabetes, organ degeneration, and autoimmune disorders—also beset canines. As a result, our beloved companions are vexed with preventable health problems throughout much of their lives and suffer shorter life spans. Because our pets can't make health and lifestyle decisions for themselves, it's up to pet parents to make smart, science-backed choices for lasting vitality and health. The Forever Dog gives us the practical, proven tools to protect our loyal four-legged companions. Rodney Habib and Karen Becker, DVM, globetrotted (pre-pandemic) to galvanize the best wisdom from top geneticists, microbiologists, and longevity researchers; they also interviewed people whose dogs have lived into their 20s and even 30s. The result is this unprecedented and comprehensive guide, filled with surprising information, invaluable advice, and inspiring stories about dogs and the people who love them. The Forever Dog prescriptive plan focuses on diet and nutrition, movement, environmental exposures, and stress reduction, and can be tailored to the genetic predisposition of particular breeds or mixes. The authors discuss various types of food—including what the commercial manufacturers don't want us to know—and offer recipes, easy solutions, and tips for making sure our dogs obtain the nutrients they need. Habib and Dr. Becker also explore how external factors we often don't think about can greatly affect a dog's overall health and wellbeing, from everyday insults to the body and its physiology, to the role our own lifestyles and our vets' choices play. Indeed, the health equation works both ways and can travel "up the leash." Medical breakthroughs have expanded our choices for canine health—if you know what they are. This definitive dog-care guide empowers us with the knowledge we need to make wise choices, and to keep our dogs healthy and happy for years to come.

List of Foods Dogs Cannot Eat Nancy Morgan, If you have a dog then be aware that the majority of your food can have bad effects on your pet if consumed, these effects can take the form of vomiting, diarrhea, fatigue, and may even lead to death. Fortunately, the majority of these foods are covered in this list. This list will help you take care of your dog's nutrition and keep it safe from toxic food.

Complete Dog Food Reference Guide M. Roache, 2011-10-14 2011 - Nearly 1,500 dog foods in this newly updated 2nd edition. Now featuring QR codes for smart phone integration and quick online access to all pet food manufacturer websites. This is the complete reference guide that includes the nutritional information and ingredients to nearly 1,500 different dry dog foods that are commonly sold in the United States. You will easily be able to compare between several different dog foods and make the most educated choice for your dog. Selecting your dog's pet food just might be the most important thing you do for your dog. Your dog can't choose the food and depends entirely on you to make the right choice. Since your dog is going to be eating the same food every day and every meal, make sure your selection is a good one. Imagine if you had to choose a single meal to eat everyday for every meal. You might not do that well on a fast-food diet - a much better choice would be a healthy and wholesome one. A high-quality dog food that is appropriate for your dog's current life-stage can be the difference between a healthy dog and one that requires frequent and expensive trips to the veterinarian for chronic nutrition-related problems. Many animal health care professionals agree that the most common cause of skin and coat problems (besides external parasites) can be attributed to food sensitivity reactions from poor quality ingredients in commercial dog foods. The AAFCO (Association of American Feed Control Officials) standards for a Complete and Balanced pet food are very basic and these Complete and Balanced foods still may not be appropriate to feed your dog. This all depends on the ingredients - grains verses meats. The most important way to evaluate a dog foods is to choose the ones with the right ingredients. Understanding the ingredients can be very difficult. With this guide, not only will you know exactly what is in your dog's food, but you will also understand what the ingredients are and what they are doing for your dog's well-being. A dog food grading system is good and useful to weed-out the poor quality foods so that you have an easier time choosing between the higher-quality foods. The highest scoring dog food may not be the best-suited one for your dog. Each dog has basic needs, but some may require specific formulations for optimal health. All of this can be very confusing for dog owners. If a dog does well on a dog food with no secondary health problems, then the food might be adequate for the dogs well-being and for the dog's current life-stage. Remember: a dog's different life-stages require different nutritional formulations and a switch in foods may be necessary a few times during your dog's lifespan. Switching diets can be hard on some dogs and can cause digestive problems and diarrhea. Some owners automatically attribute these problems to the new food, which may not be the case. To help reduce this problem, a mixture of the two foods can be fed before completely switching. The health benefits from a new food may not be noticeable for 3-8 weeks.

Shaping the Wolf Within Your Dog Nathan B. Childs,2004 Shaping the Wolf Within Your Dog is a comparison study of wolf and dog behavior. It is also a comprehensive guide for living in harmony with dogs. We know dogs are genetically related to the wolf; and both exhibit identical instincts, behaviors, temperaments, and dispositions - and both abide to the law of nature that contends: for any animal grouping to survive, there must be social order and communication between its members. Knowing this, we should learn all we can about wolf behavior, and incorporate that knowledge with our dogs. By learning how pack animals establish social order and communicate with one another, we can use this information to shape our dogs' natural instincts, without having to use food bribes or violence. When we communicate in our dogs' language, we will be able to communicate our leadership. The outcome will be predictable, for we will be using the same methods of an alpha wolf when he establishes and maintains social order with a pack of wolves. We will be shaping the same wolf instincts that are intact and engaged in each of our dogs. Shaping the Wolf Within Your Dog illuminates: The natural behavior of canines The language of canines How alphas lead their packs How alphas discipline and show affection The hierarchy of the wolf social order The natural friendliness, loyalty, and devotion of pack members How to pick the best pup from a litter How to establish social order with pups Basic obedience and off lead obedience Family protection training
